BILL-CONGRESSMEN TALKING OF AN ADJOURN-MENT.

IBT TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE. WASHINGTON, May 8 .- There are some freetrade Democrats in the House who still nurse a hope that a tariff bill will be brought in and passed before the adjournment. One of them is O B. Potter, who said to day that he thinks " something will yet be done " toward tariff revision before the end of the session. Said he: " I have so high an opinion of the good sense of the American people that I believe they will insist upon something being done." Mr. Potter also said that he thinks the Ways and Means Committee will take up his refunding bill soon and report it favorably to the House.

It is understood that Mr. Hewitt has nearly completed the bill to remove certain obscurities in the present tarisf law, and to obvinte other difficulties in the way of its efficient and uniform administration. The bill will prob ably be brought before the Ways and Means Committee at its meeting next Tuesday. There is good reason to be lieve that a strong effort will be made to secure some further reduction of internal taxation. Mr. Kasson's bill to repeal the tobacco tax is before the Ways and Means Committee, and it has a great many friends on soth sides of the Heuse. Several of the Democratic mempers of the committee are disposed to favor the bill, and It may be found practicable to secure action by the committee after time shall have healed in some degree the wounded feelings of Chairman Merrison. He has strongly insisted that there should be no consideration given to the subject of internal taxation without prior action upon the tariff.

LIKELY TO APPEAL TO THE HOUSE, If it shall not be found practicable to persuade him and a majority of his colleagues to consider and report an internal revenue bill an effort will be made in the House to suspend the rules and pass such a measure. Promineut leaders on both sides believe that such an attempt would be successful. Southern Representatives are ever more auxious for the repeal of the internal taxes on more auxious for the repeal of the internal taxes on spirits distilled from apples, peaches, etc., than they are to obtain a repeal or reduction of the tobacco taxes. Representatives from Virginia, North Carolina, Tennessee and several other Southern States are expected to hold a conference to-morrow to consider and decide upon a course of action. Colonel Cabell, of Virginia, who is chadrman of a committee appointed to bring the Southern men together for this purpose, said to-day that the outlook is very favorable and he has strong hopes that the movement will succeed, either through prompt and efficient action by the Ways and Means Committee or by direct appeal to the House.

TALKING OF ADJOURNMENT.

TALKING OF ADJOURNMENT. It is not probable that the discussion of any internal revenue bill which may be brought forward will greatly prolong the session. It seems to be generally expected that the session will end about June 30, and it is under-stood that a majority of the Ways and Means Committee stood that a majority of the Ways and Means Committee is in favor of sonding to the Senate a joint resolution pro-viding for an adjournment sine die on June 20. Such action would indicate a probability that the session might end ten days later. Both factions of the majority in the House appear to be equally anxious to get away from Washington as early as practicable—the free traders be-cause they desire to "fix things" for a victory at Chicago over the opposing faction, and the anti-tarif agitation leaders because they fear that the longer Congress re-mains in session the more party blanders will the un-terity make.

MR. WATTERSON FREES HIS MIND. HE TALKS OF TREACHERY, BASHI-BAZOUKS AND INSURRECTION, AND LUGS IN BANQUO'S GHOST. INVITELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.]

WASHINGTON, May S .- " I wonder what Watterson will say " has been a frequent remark of Demoeratic Representatives since the defeat of the Morrison bill. Under the caption, "Treachery in the Party," Mr. Watterson yesterday expressed his sentiments. He feelares that " a serious disaster has overtaken the Demo The Democrats who voted against the blil cratic party." are "renegade Demograts," "a small guerrilla band," the members of which " are serving not the people, but subsidized interests." "It will not do any longer to plend the past services of Mr. Randall or Mr. Eaton ; the same pies was recently made by Mr. Eaton for Benedict Arnold." "They have caused a breach in the party, which is as irreconcilable as it was unnecessary." Mr. Watterson thinks they should readjust their party relations." But "the cause itself has received no check," for "a trumpet has been sounded that will never call retreat," and "the day for all com-that will never call retreat," and "the day for all compromises has ceased." Mr. Watterson continues:

The rejection of the Morrison bill is, as far as protected interests are concerned, a blumler that, as the contest progresses, will assume the proportions of a crime. Instead of a conservative and gradual reduction, there will come a demand no Congress can resist for sweeping and radical reductions. Postponement and delay simply serve to unity the elements of reform, unite in iriends and give courage and determination to the isolaters. The Democratic party to-day is in disgrace. Placed by an overwhelming popular vote in control of the tenne of Representatives, it has accomplished nothing. To attempt to turn fasside from tariff agitation was foilly to suppose that the party itself will for a moment submit to the distation and control of a handful of Basin-Bazouks is sheer they. The extens may not be able to control Messys. Earon, Converse and Randell, but an appeal lies from them to the National Convention and from the Convention to the people.
Party discipline, as far as this Congress is concerned, has been destroyed. Insubortination and manifection have discipling, as in additional distriction have account triumphed, but only for a manner. The are in advance of their leaders, as they will soon people are in advance of their leaders, as they will soon discover.

The fruits of our last victory have been frittered away, but the National Convention must reorganize the party, punish the actions and order cowards to the rear. The principle for which we are containing is vital—it is pressing, and it demands attention. We could not thrist it aside if we would. Like Banquo's ghost, it will not down. The Democratic party is the party of revenue reform, or it is nothing. If our leaders are not equal to their opportunities; if they lack courage and determination; if they are still doubting and hesitating, we must have a change of leaders, or the party itself will be as disorganized and as useless as the Democratic majority in courted of the House.

He declares that the Democratic party is irrevocably committed in favor of "agitation and reduction" of the committed in favor of "agitation and reduction" of the lartif, and "the agitation will go on with frenewed vigor as'a protest against the conspiracy which for a white prevents any relief to the people." He concludes:

Thus is the issue formed. We cannot retreat if we would. We must go forward or we must surrender. If the people want protection, as Messra.
Randall Eaton and Converse claim, then they will see that the Government is given in charge of the Republican party. The Democratic party cannot be trusted to maintain the protective system, which it has denounced as a masterpiece of iniquity.

THE SWAIM COURT OF INQUIRY. SOME SINGULAR FACTS ABOUT THE MORROW CASE COMMENTED UPON. IBY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.]

Washington, May 8 .- It is likely that the testimony already in before the Swaim Court of Inquiry will make it necessary before the matter is dropped to ascertain who is responsible for the failure to have an official investigation made a year ago into the duplication of the pay accounts of Colonel A. P. Morrow. IN THE TRIBUNE of May 24 and May 26, 1883, the matter was discussed, and the fact was mentioned that while Colonel Morrow's offence falled by some reason to receive official attention at the War Depart ut, Lientenant-Colonel liges and one or two other officers guilty of like offences were subjected to trial by court-martial. It was supposed at that time that Colonel Morrow had perhaps only carried a mouth's pay over a short time, and that he had made arrangements to settle the matter without its being called to the attention of the military authorities, but it seems that in his case there was not only a duplica-tion, but even a quadruplication, of pay accounts; that a meeting of bankers who neld the duplicate accounts was called, and that by some official authority an prrangement was made by which a portion of Morrow's pay was to be handed over monthly to the bankers. The Paymaster-General issued a circular on the subject at the time, from which it would appear that a proper notification required by army regulations in such a case was sent by the Paymaster-General to the War Department. One of the questions remaining to be answered is, who saved Cotonel Morrow from court martial? It is re-mental that one or two officials of the War Depart-ment at the time said no official charges had been pre-pared against Cotonel Morrow, nor had any official notifi-cation been received to indicate that he had been guilty of the offence charged. Further proceedings of the Swaim Court of Inquiry will be awaited with considerable inter-est.

SOME POINTS OF THE TESTIMONY. WASHINGTON, May 8 .- The session of the Swalm Court of Inquiry to-day, up to the time of recess. was occupied in the cross-examination of Mr. Baleman. This cross-examination was directed principalry to showing that there had been some dissatisfaction on the part of General Swaim with respect to the manner in which of General Swalls what respect to the manner in which certain business had been transacted for him by Bateman & Co., with the object, as counsel for General Swalls applicated, of showing that there might have been an atomat difference of opinion between Swalls and Bateman as to accounts of the former.

After recess Mr. Bateman said that Colonel Morrow in After recease Mr. Bateman said that Colonel Morrow in denying the accessation of frand, explained how he had anale out a senedule of his delets for General Swaim, and supposed the latter had shown it to Bateman. He asserted that Morrow's agreement with the bankers was shown either to the Secretary of War or the General of Army, and was a matter of public notoriety.

Mr. Bateman was questioned in regard to the due-bill for $5,000 given by him to swaim, the suit on which precipitated this trouble. He said the first intimation he received that the disc-bill was considered a note was when it was presented for payment by Mr. Humphreys, to whom it had been transferred by General Swaim. The bill was presented for payment during his absence in New-York, and he had directed the bank not to pay any attention to it. On his cours he sent for Mr. Humphreys, and when the latter to told him the officensiance was more which he had taken the due-bill from Swaim, he had said; "Humphreys to the due-bill from Swaim, he had said; "Humphreys to the due-bill from Swaim, he had said; "Humphreys to whom the due-bill from Swaim, he had said; "Humphreys to whom the due-bill from Swaim, he had said; "Humphreys to whom the due-bill from Swaim, he had said; "Humphreys to whom the due-bill from Swaim, he had said; "Humphreys to whom the due-bill from Swaim, he had said; "Humphreys to whom the due-bill from Swaim, he had said; "Humphreys to whom the due-bill from Swaim, he had said; "Humphreys to whom the due-bill from Swaim, he had said; "Humphreys to whom the due-bill from Swaim, he had said; "Humphreys to whom the due-bill from Swaim, he had said; "Humphreys to whom the due-bill from Swaim, he had said; "Humphreys to whom the due-bill from Swaim, he had said; "Humphreys to whom the due-bill from Swaim, he had said; "Humphreys to whom the due-bill from Swaim, he had said; "Humphreys to whom the due-bill from Swaim, he had said; "Humphreys to whom the due-bill from Swaim, he had the due-bill from Swaim, and the due-bill wound, and his daught

THE ULTRAMONTANES AND SOCIALISTS. BERLIN, May 8 .- In the Reichstag to-day the motion to pass to the second reading of the bill prolonging the special Anti-Socialist law was the occasion of a vigorous debate. Count Stauffenberg spoke is opposition, while Count Minnigerode, Dr. Marquardsen and Count Behr favored the renewal of the law. Dr. Windthorst, the leader of the Ultramontanes, declared that the Centre were unanimously of the opinion that the law could never be a permanent arrangement. But still he recog-nized that the Socialist excesses must be vizorously com-lated. If his amendments were rejected and a division should be taken on the Government bill unanimented, every member of the Centre would be at liberty to vote as he riessed.

MR. IRVING AND MISS TERRY LANDED. LIVERPOOL, May 8 .- Mr. Irving and Miss berry landed to-day. They were received with cheers by a crowd at the pier and heartily welcomed by the actors of Liverpool. These went out to the Aurania on a special tender and fetched Mr. Irving and Miss Terry ashore. London, May 8.—Mr. Irving and Miss Terry arrived at the Euston Depot at 7:25 to-night. They were both in excellent health. Their arrival was expected this morning, and only a few friends were at the depot upon the arrival of the train to-night. Mr. Irving and Miss Terry were extended a warm welcome home.

Mr. Irving in an interview said that it was impossible for Englishmen who had not visited America to conselve of the feeling of Americans toward the mother country. The Americans, he said, had great affection for the English.

On every occasion his andience was most sympathetic. The various cities afforded macrial for wonder, especially Chicago, which, condering its history, was quite a marvel. STREET RAILWAY PLANS.

LINES IN BROADWAY AND FIFTH AVENUE. THE NORTHERN CROSS-TOWN STREETS TO BE GRID-IRONED.

[FROM THE REGULAR CORRESPONDENT OF THE TRIBUNE.]
ALBANY, May 8.—The ink was scarcely dry f the Governor's signature to the General Street Railay bill when there was filed in the Secretary of State's office a certificate of incorporation of a company that proposes to cover the cross-town streets in the northern eart of New-York city with railroads, Forty-second-st. eing the chief of these. That was yesterday. To-day articles of incorporation were received of two companies that intend to put railroads in Fifth-ave, and Broadway The companies last referred to have the same list of incorporators and may be regarded as the same corpora tion. These incorporators are George Henry Warren-James A. Roosevelt, George G. Hauen, William C Whitney, Brayton Ives, Riebard T. Wilson, Joseph J. O'Donahue, John C. Lewis, Boland N. Hazard, Wallace C Andrews, William Cutting, Thomas F. Ryan, Thomas W. Evans, George F. Baker, Christopher C. Baldwin and Henry S. Rogers. It is noted that five of the incorporators, Wallace C. Andrews, Thomas F. Ryan, Roland N. Hazard, Thomas W. Evans, and Joseph J. O'Donahues were also incorporators of the "New-York Cable Com pany," organized on April 21, and that they each subscribed for 18,550 shares in that company. Wallace C. Andrews was elected president of that company and Thomas F. Ryan its treasurer. There is therefore good ground for the suspicion that the New-York Cable Com pany is endeavoring to organize street railway com-panies in its own behalf which will use the cable system.

IN BROADWAY AND FIFTH AVENUE. One of their companies is to be known as "The Fifth Avenue Railroad Company." The road will begin at the Harlem Rives, and run thence southerly through Fifth-ave., its entire length to Washington Square. It is to be a double track railroad for its entire length. Its length ill be seven and one-half miles. Ten per cent of th capital stock, which is fixed at $100,000, has already been paid in. The other company of these men will be termed "The Broadway Aniroad Company." The route the proposed road is described as follows in the act of incorporation:

Beginning at the southerly side of Union Square Park in line with Broadway, thence across to Broadway, and through Broadway for its entire length to the southerly end thereof; thence by two reads and extensions, the one to the westerly side around the Bowling Green and through State-st, to the foot thereof to Whitehall-st, and thence to the East River through Whitehall-st, in other on the easterly side of the Bowling Green, through Whitehall-st, for its entire length, to the East River; with a further line of railroad or branch commencing on the westerly side of Bowling Green, in front of Eastery Place, thence we sterly through Battery Place to the Hudson River at or near Pier So. 1, the same to be a double track refired of fer entire length.

THE TENURE OF OFFICE BILL PASSED. IT IS AMENDED SO AS TO SHORTEN THE TERM OF THE COMMISSIONER OF PUBLIC WORKS,

[FROM THE REGULAR CORRESPONDENT OF THE TRIBUNE.] ALBANY, May 8 .- Another attack was made on Commissioner Thompson in the Assembly to-day. Mr. Roosevelt insisted upon the of the Tenure of Office bill. The measure virtually gives to the next Mayor the appointment of a Commissioner of Public Works and a Corporation Counsel. The terms of the present officers holding these positions expire next December. But the bill permits Mayor Edson to appoint their successors for a erm of two months only.

Mr. Dayton,of New-York, offered an amendment reduc ing from five years to two years the terms of office of the Commissioner of Public Works and Corporation Counsel. He pointed out that the object of the present bill was to prevent Mayor Edson from appointing a Commissioner of Public Works for a term louger than the next Mayor's; yet the new Mayor would appoint a commissioner, it the bill passed, whose term would outlast the term even of the Mayor who should succeed himself. This was unjust. The amendment was adopted. It received 68 affirmative votes. Then the bill was passed by a vote of 71 to 44. All the negative votes were given by Democrats out several Democrate votes for it. The men who had the courage to do this were Butler, Church, Hapending, Kally, Nelson and Weleb. In the Senate the amendments of the Assembly were concurred in, and the bill was passed by a vote of ayes, 18; nays, 9.

Senator Gibbs put the Bureau of Elections bill in a more favorable position in the Senate. He moved that a certain rule should be suspended in order that the bill might be immediately considered. The motion was carcied by a vote of 14 to 15. Lieutenant-Governor Hill voting in the affirmative. missioner of Public Works and Corporation Counsel

MINOR LEGISLATIVE MATTERS. TO RELIEVE LONG ISLAND CITY-A NEW COMPRO-

MISE FORESTRY BILL. [BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.] ALBANY, May 8 .- Mr. Church, of Queens County, asked the Assembly to pass his bill at once permitting Long Island City to raise aloney by issuing certificates of the payment of arrearages of taxation. He said that when he introduced the bill the city had $200,000 on deposit in the Marine Bank of New-York. That had been exhausted by the failure of the Marine Bank long before the time set. The bill ought to be passed immediately, for the city was in a desperate financial position. The measure was passed by a unanimous vote The Assembly to-day took a step toward protecting the Addrondack forests. Upon motion of Mr. Boynton, of Essex County, the three bills relating to the forests were considered in the Committee of the Whole for a momen and were then ordered to a third reading. This will put them in a position where they can be readily passed. The Speaker was then authorized to appoint a emmittee to take the three bills and see if their best futures cannot be united in one bill. It is suspected that Mr. Husted will in tids way attempt to secure the adop-tion of the Chamber of Commerce bill by the Assembly. The three bills which are thus to be shaped into one are Senator Lansing's, Mr. Boynton's and Mr. Little

The Assembly held its annual debate on the Woman Suffrage bill. Mr. Husted made his usual fervent

REGRETTING LOST TRADITIONS—BURLESQUE DE-

TRYING TO REACH A CONCLUSION. SENATOR DAGGETT BRINGS OUT A REPORT ON THE PUBLIC WORKS INVESTIGATION.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.] ALBANT, May 8 .- The Senate Committee on Cities resumed to night the preparation of the report on the recent investigation of the Department of Public Works of New-York. Senator Daggett much amazed his Republican colleagues by exhibiting a re-port which he had drawn up concerning the results of the investigation. This he declared was borne out by all the testimony. He read This his report, which was about one-third as long as the draft of the report by Mr. Whitridge and General Tracy, the counsel of the committee. Mr. Daggett argued that his draft of a report ought to be substituted for the other one. The committee debated the two reports till 12:30 a.m., when a recess was taken for two hours, Senator Dagget then went to his room at the Delevan House to make some additions to his report. He said that two-thirds of it was acceptable to the other Republican Senators and he thought it would be accepted. Senators Gibbs, McCarthy and Lausing said that some parts of Senator Daggett's ment on the testimony were acceptable to them, but they thought in the end some part of the counsel's draft rould be added to Senator Daggett's. For one hour there would be added to Senator Daggett's. For one nour there was a determined effort to melt the two reports together, but they would not mix.

Senator Gittes animal that the Democrats seemed to be in a mood to co-operate with the Republicans in making a report. It is suspected, however, that Senators Dody and Thicher will differ with the Republican Senators and thresent a report of their own on the linessitisation. Senator Cullen may join with the Republicans in making a report. Senator Gibbs states that a majority report will surely be made. The committee took a recess at 11:30 p. m. to 2 a.m. to 2 a. m. The committee expect to submit their report or repor-

INT TRESCRIPTS TO THE TRIBUNE. Buffalo, May 8. -Ever since the election of 3. Clinton Gardner as president of the Bufalo, New-York and Philadelphia Railroad and his policy in connection with the management of the read was to some exter foreshadowed, a number of the officials have been kept on the anxious seat without being able to definitely deter nine where the lightning would strike when the work of reorganization was completed.

The president came to Buffulo on Monday and he has since been extremely busy. As a result the culmination of his intentions has been reached. It is embodie n the following order, dated New-York, May 7 :- Under the organization adopted by the beard of directors th ollowing officers have been appointed: Oliver Watso general manager; G. S. Gatchell, general super intendent; E. T. Johnson, general freight agent W. S. Baidwin, general passenger agent and ticket agent W. L. Doyle, auditor. The lines of this company will be operated in three divisions—the Buffalo division, head quarters at Buffalo; Rochester division, headquarters at Olean; Phrisburg division, headquarters at Ole City.

G. CLINTON GARDOKER.

The effect of this order is to abolish the officers, assist ant-treasurer, traffic manager, purchasing agent and assistant auditor, and to consolidate the Pittsourg and liver divisions. As a consequence, Reuten Hall, assistant-treasurer, George A. Baker, general freight agent. J. H. Poole, purchasing agent, Philip, assistant-auditor, and A.Van Dewort, superintendent of the River Division, are retired. It is understood that these men, who have il been faithful and efficient, suffer no reflection upon heir record or capacity by these changes. The intention their record or capacity by these changes. The intention is, it is stated, to provide for them, if they see fit to main with the company, such positions as can be given

A KICK THAT WILL RESULT FATALLY. Mrs. Malloy, of No. 558 West Forty-first-st. West Thirty-seventh Street Police Station last night told Sergeant Havens that her boy, Joseph, age nine, had been brought home unconscious and that he was dying from injuries said to have been inflicted by a car enductor of the Grand and Forty-second st. cross-town Thomas Crook, of No. 588 West Forty-first-st. line. Thomas Crook, of No. 588 West Forty-first-st., said that Malloy, with some other boys, jumped on the rear platform of a car near Eleventh-ave. The conductor pushed them of and kicked Malloy in the abdomen. The boy fell unconselous on the tracks. Some passers-by picked him up, and carried him to his home. A physician said that he would probably die. Eugene Vredenburgh, a of ear No. 32, was identified by Crook as the man who had kicked Malloy, and he was arrested. He was taken before Malloy to be identified, but the boy was unconscious.

PRESIDENT ARTHUR'S VISIT.

President Arthur arrived at the Fifth Avenue otel yesterday morning, being unaccompanied. He came to this city to consult his law partners, Messrs. Ranom & Knevals, and to transact some private business He will probably return to Washington Sunday evening He went out for two hours in the afternoon and in the evening he direct at the note! with Elbin Root, Surrogate Rollins, Charles E. Miller and J. C. Reed. He saw lew callers during the day, among them being N. M. Beets-with Le Grand B. Camon, Cornclus N. Blass, Parke Godwin, John R. Lydecker and Jacob M. Patterson, Jr. MR. BEECHER REMINDED OF HIS BOYHOOD.

Mr. Beecher at the meeting of the Brooklyn Revenue Reform Club hast evening said: "We Repub-licans hoped to get a reform tariff bill from the Demoeratic Congress, as the only compensation for its existence; but our hope is gone. It reminds me of my early speech in behalf of the bill. Mr. Wostfall argued that the Legislature was attempting to overthe a coordinate branch of government, the pulliculary, in the bill. Measer House, Scott, husbell, Van Allen and W. E. Smith argues that it was plain that the right of suffrage could only be conferred on women by amending the Constitution. Then by a vote of 57 years to 62 mays, the bill was beaten. Tair's of the NOUNCED-REMINISCENCES. The Madison Square Theatre entrance suggested Union rather than Madison Square yesterday afternoon. Actors lounged against the door-posts, actors stood on the sidewalk looking at the dismal, drize zling rain, and at three o'clock, the hour advertised for Mr. Boucleault's "Conference," actors and actresses filled the orchestra of the little theatre and studied the embroidered curtain. A few minutes after three the curtain rose and a pretty interior set was disclosed. On one side was a extemporized reading desk, draped with silk and having on it a lump and a bouquet of flowers. A second later Mr. Boucleault walked in, dressed in a gray freek coat, with a silk hat in his hand and a light overcoat over his arm. He was greeted with a round of applause, which he acknowledged by a graceful bow. He thet proceeded to hang the overcoat on a plush-covered chair, placed his hat on the reading deak, opened a bulky roll of manuscript, and advancing to the middle of the stage began to talk.

After apologizing for the disappointment that he had caused by the postpenement of his conference from the week before, he went on to show in what respects a conference differed from a lecture. In a confer ence, he said, the speaker and audience meet on more inti mate terms and the speaker is open to be questioned or to be asked for fuller explanation on any points which "I am not going to inflict on you this mass of manuscript," and Mr. Rouelcault, affectionately patting the papers; "they are merely sheets hurrically tora from a work I have in progress, which I shall leave as a legacy to my dear companions of the stage."

Although all other arts, he continued, were housed in a system, acting had become a vagrant; for although car tain rules and principles were acknowledged by great ertists, they were unknown to the young beginners. The traditions of the craft had been lost. Mr. Boucleault then warned his hearers against the impression that greatness on the stage can be achieved by genius, or perfection arrived at by divine inspiration without the assistance of labor and attention to details. Genius and art were as inseparable as the body and the soul. "What would you think," he asked, "of a pointer who was ignorant of perspective or the value of pigments? of nost who said. 'I don't know how to spell.' The trouble with many beginners is that they want to begin

In a humorous way he then described a familiar indent in his cureer, an interview between his saif and a mother and daughter. The daughter wants to go on the stage. "Let her go," replies Mr. Boucleault. "She can perhaps work her way gradually to the top of the tree." and asks Mr. Boucle sult to hear her daughter "act" a scene from "Romeo and Juliet." "Perfectly useless, is his reply. "You might as well seat her on a table and lat her so through the motion of riding to let me tudge of her as a horsewoman, or let her lie on the floor and move her arms and legs to show her ability as a swimmer. As riding is only taught on the horse and swimming in the water, so acting is only taught here," said Mr. Boucleault, pointing downward, "in presence of that," extending his arm toward the andience. He then instanced another case of a young widow who came to him for advice, as she had to choose between the stage and the work house, and chose the former. He told her to nem a handler-ther, imagining the handler-thef and the needle and throad. She could not do it, "aithough," said the speaker, "I once saw old Mrs. Glover deceive not only the andience but myself what the property-man had forgotten the needle and throad and she had to sew on the stage. The brain must be at work with the actor, and he must not depend on any one else for his brains."

Mr. Bonefeault then gave an interesting sketch of the three London patent theatres—Drury Lane, Covent Garden, and the Haymarket—which had it had to sew handed down from carrier and Betterton to John Philip Kemble; from oim to Cooke and Young, and from them to the eder Kean and Macready. "All that has been loost," he said. "People look at it as a slight thing; but they are mistaken." He then compared a performance of "Twellth Night," with Ellen Tree, Hacley, Farren and others in the cast, which he saw about fly years ago, and the same play as given by Advinde Nellson, to the disadvantace of the latter. Not only were the actors in a moddle, but the suchence also was involved in it.

He then considered the cardit at rules of acting which he said were simple enough; they included perfect command of the vole; gesture, or movement from the waist up, and posture, or movement from the waist up, and posture, or movement from the waist up, and posture, or movement from the waist own. He can be such were simple enough; they land a certor to be such as a single by the prince of well-said to the fashion set by the Prince of Weles and the service of soon and the sugar proval of "elecution" as tangut by its professors for sarge purpos her arms and legs to show her ability as a swim-mer. As riding is only taught on the horse

Next he dilated on the "lost art of walking"; on the difficulty of being a "good better" on the stage, and Next he dilated on the "lost ant of walking"; on the difficulty of being a "good bisener" on the stare, and on the difficulty of being a "good bisener" on the stare, and on the danger of playing to the audience too much, a fault more common on the French than on the English or American stare. He arroad on his bearers the necessity of studying a character from the inside, and not from the outside; bushed on certain tricks common among old actors, such as always taking the certre of the stage; and on the difficulty in finding out the line best adapted to a beginner. Finally, he warned his hearers against burlesque, "that buflooners which is the blasphemy of art, and which has ceep into high phaces. Cast it out," he said, "and let it be drawned in the sea of oblivion, that gandy lie which has decauched the stage. It has prevented Irving and Booth rising to their natural height for fear of ridicule and the little dade who will cry out. Isn't it too-too!"

With a graceful compliment to the Messes, Mallory, Mr. Boucleault bowed himself off amid a storm of applause. He will probably report his conference at an early date. Among those present were John McCullough, P. S. Glimore, Charles W. Walcot, George Clarke, Benjamin Magnaley, A. R. Cazauran, Joseph Wheelock, Thomas Waiffen, Miss Georgia Cayvan, Miss Sadie Sartinet, Miss Marie Burroughs, Miss Helen Tracey, Miss Louise Thortudyke, Miss Notta Guion, Mrs. Waiffen, J. IN FAVOR OF TARIFF REFORM. About forty New-York merchants and manufacturers met in one of the parlors of the Windsor Hotel last night to devise means by which Congress might b induced to abolish all duties on raw materials, and so adjust the tariff that manufactures approaching nearest the crude state shall pay a proportionately low rate of duty, and those requiring much skill and labor a propor-tionately high rate of duty. J. B. Sargent presided.

Among hose present were Frank O. Herring, of Herring & Co.; R. H. Wolff, Alexander E. Kursneedt, J. B. Brown, William Dean, J. Schoenhol, Alfred Doelge, Richard S. Ely, A. Augustus Healy, Fred Kuhne, F. W. Kalbfielach, E. A. Luroy and Emerson A. Rhoades. Resolutions were adopted providing that a union be formed for tariff revision, to be known as the Manufacturers' Turiff Reform Lengue, that Congress be memorialized and addresses sent to the Republican and Democratic National Conventions, and that other means be taken to secure the abolition of the tariff on raw materials and the further modification of the tariff so that it shall weight lightest on manufactured goods into which the least labor

PROBABLE DEATH OF A LABOR UNION.

BUFFALO, May 8 .- All is quiet along the docks. The non-union men are working peaceably and few of the rough element and hardly any of the mem bers of the 'Longshoremen's Union are to be seen in the vicinity. A consultation was held to-day by Police Com-missioner Crissey with Manager Evans, of the Evans line of propeliers, reparting the employment of union men. Mr. Evans said that he was not opposed to hiring molos men, but that he would only do so under such rules as the line he represented might dictate. It is thought that many of the men will avail themselves of the chance to get work. The other times, having made arrangements with non-union men, will make no changes. It is believed that the union will die out after this season.
